- Customers who use the free 'Porque Tú Vuelves' program will be able to benefit immediately from this measure in all their refueling, with no volume limit and no need to use an app
- Since April, more than 1,600,000 loyal Cepsa customers have already benefited from these savings
- Adding this measure to the discounts already offered by the company, private customers will be able to access savings of up to 50 cts/liter
- For all users, Cepsa offers a universal discount of 5 cents per liter, in addition to that established by the Government, reaching a minimum saving of 25 cents

Cepsa extends the discount on its fuels until December. The company's customers who use the free 'Porque Tú Vuelves' program will continue to receive an immediate discount of up to 30 cents per liter: 20 cents of the bonus approved by the Government of Spain to which are added 5 cents of the universal discount that Cepsa offers to any customer and an additional 5 cents that the company gives to members of the 'Porque Tú Vuelves' program.

In addition, by adding this measure to the discounts already offered by Cepsa, through its alliances with Carrefour and Wizink, private customers will be able to obtain an additional 20 cents, reaching a saving of up to 50 cents per liter.

With this measure, which is not conditional on the volume of refueling or the use of an app, the company continues to offer its customers discounts in addition to the bonus recently approved by the Government, with the aim of helping to cope with an exceptional time.

For their part, couriers using Cepsa's professional cards can save of up to 30 cents per liter, in addition to current commercial discounts.

This measure, implemented by the company on April 1, will remain in force until December 31, in a context of exceptionally high fuel prices as a result of the increase in international raw material prices. Between April and June, more than 1.6 million loyal Cepsa customers have already benefited from these discounts offered by the company.
